The system cannot send a link now, so the next step is to drop your opponent a text or email to advise them you have invited them. They should then login to their account and go to “my Booking” tab and accept the invitation and pay.

Due to the age of the software, this is the only way to switch the lights on remotely.

Please also note, you need to confirm your acceptance before your playing time starts, otherwise once it has started then the invite link will disappear.
